The Purchasing Requisition is a function that assumes approvals that involve payments, such as purchasing requests, business trip requests, and entertainment expense requests. The various application functions, which are general-purpose approval and workflow functions, should be used mainly for contract approvals that do not involve payments.

Also, depending on the update status of the purchasing request, some functions available in various applications may not be supported.
If you require application and approval functions that require more complex forms or routes, please use the various application functions.

For details about unsupported functions, please see " Functional differences with various applications ."
